2 A major aim of the phased implementation approach is to learn how to improve access to psychological trauma services through continuous evaluation and research.

3 Partnership working is a key element of the Regional Trauma Network service delivery model. It aims to enable people with significant levels of psychological trauma to be supported by a number of agencies who will work together to meet all their needs. Do you agree with this approach to delivering the Regional Trauma Network?

Comments:

- 4 The Stormont House Agreement sets out a commitment to develop a psychological trauma service in Northern Ireland for individuals experiencing significant level of psychological trauma as a result of the Troubles/Conflict. A priority in Phase 1, therefore, is to work in partnership with the Victims and Survivors Sector to establish ready and safe access to Health and Social Care psychological trauma services for people with significant levels of post-traumatic stress disorder as a result of the Troubles/Conflict.

Five Health & Wellbeing Case Managers are employed by the Victims and Survivors Service. They are authorised through the 2016 Partnership Agreement between the Department of Health (DoH) and The Executive Office (TEO) to comprehensively assess needs of individuals who are experiencing significant levels of psychological trauma, and make referrals directly into the regional HSC Local Trauma Teams. This is an innovative and unique approach to accessing Health and Social Care.

Phase 1 allows Health and Social Care to learn more about the needs of adults with psychological trauma and the safest and most effective way for them to readily access statutory services.

Do you have any comments in relation to this aspect of Phase 1?

Comments:

- 5 During Phase 1, a pathway to Regional Trauma Network services for will be designed and developed for children and young people, in line with the existing Child and Adolescent Mental Health Services (CAMHS) pathway. This will be informed by existing experience of services for children and young people, and by learning from the experience of delivering treatment to victims and survivors of the Troubles/Conflict who require treatment within Health and Social Care.

Have you any comments in relation to this approach to designing and developing a pathway for children and young people?

Comments:

6 Also during Phase 1 a pathway will be designed and developed for individuals with significant trauma symptoms that are not associated with Conflict/Troubles-related incident/s, who experience barriers to accessing mental health services. This will be informed by the existing experiences of these individuals and communities and by learning from the experience of improving access for victims and survivors of the Troubles/Conflict who require treatment within Health and Social Care.

Have you any comments in relation to this approach to designing and developing a pathway for individuals who experience barriers to accessing mental health services, who have significant trauma experiences that are not associated with Conflict/Troubles-related incident/s?

Comments:

- 7 Phase 2 proposes to open pathways for all other relevant statutory and non-statutory organisations for both child and adult service-users via the General Practitioner (GP). Learning from Phase 1 will influence the design and development of these other pathways to access Regional Trauma Network services.

Have you any comments in relation to this?

Comments:

8 Phase 3 will focus on the development of future Regional Trauma Network design and action planning, based on:

- performance information and learning from Phases 1 and 2;
- evidence of need and demand, and engagement with individuals with significant trauma symptoms that are not associated with Conflict/Troubles-related incident/s who experience barriers to accessing mental health services; and
- recommendations for future service development and any additional resources required.
